Agenda – Formulating a Budget for Post Covid India

While the Ministry of Finance remains a sophisticated committee, proposing a fictional agenda may be a viable option to promote high quality debate. The Covid pandemic has unveiled various sectors of the Indian Economy which need more attention. The appropriate allocation of funds, depending upon the current situation, is of utmost importance since funds are the key to development. To meet these conditions, the agenda of forming a budget in Post Covid India has been selected.

The delegates can raise opinions of their respective states, and debate what their state requires the most. In this way, they can come to collective solutions fulfilling the needs of all the communities and forming the budget accordingly.
